POLICE – (Staff contact Brett Ayres, Sgt Community Relations, 936-559-2618)

On Wednesday March 2, 2022 members of the Nacogdoches Police and Fire Departments along with numerous city, county and elected officials celebrated Texas Independence day with the Daughters of the Republic of Texas at the Old University Building. Three area schools were represented by their students who each were allowed to ring the building's bell to commemorate the number of years since Texas gained its independence. (Exhibit D)

The Nacogdoches Police Department will begin participating with TXDOT's STEP Program beginning March 4th through the 20th. The purpose for our participation is to reduce the number of alcohol related crashes and increase public safety by increasing patrols in certain areas within the city of Nacogdoches. NPD is receiving grant funding from TXDOT for selective traffic enforcement in areas identified by the state to have increased accidents related to alcohol. Officers will begin working these designated areas which include most of South St (US 59 South), Austin St, N. University Dr, North St, Pearl St and many streets near those listed. The overall goal of participating in the STEP program from TXDOT is to increase public safety for our citizens through education, deterrence, and voluntary compliance.

LIBRARY - (Staff contact: Mercedes Franks, Library Manager, 936-559-2945)

The A.A.R.P. Tax Help has changed its schedule. They will now end their services on April 6th and no tax services will be available March 14th and 16th. Appointments can be made by calling 936-559-2970. There are no age or income restrictions.

RECREATION - (Staff contact: Joy Palmer, Recreation Supervisor, 936-559-2960)

Youth Basketball ended their season with some very exciting championship games. All the games were very close and several went into overtime. The champions and their coaches were brought out to the court during halftime at the last home SFA basketball game on Saturday evening. They were announced to the crowd and received huge applause. It was a great way to end the season!

Girls youth volleyball had their draft evaluation this week. The majority of the players attended. Practices will begin after spring break.

Next Friday, March 11th Nacogdoches Recreation will host our first Picnic in the Park event. Join us at Pioneer Park from 11am-2pm for lawn games and activities. Pack your own lunch or purchase food from Waffles with a Twist food truck. Play on the playground, use the disc golf course, check out the army tank or just relax under a tree and enjoy the outdoors with friends and family.

HISTORIC SITES - (Staff contact: Veronica Amoe, Historic Sites Manager, 936-560-4441)

Representatives from the Texas Historical Commission expressed their gratitude for the amazing turn out at the Nacogdoches Regional Workshop Thursday. Over 50 participants, from several counties, showed up from 10am to 12pm to help the THC collect information and input for their 10-year Texas Statewide Historic Preservation Plan. Those who were not able to attend can still participate through surveys and digital meetings at www.texaspreservationplan.com.

Some of the objectives for the workshop were to:

- Identify threats and opportunities facing Texas' historic and cultural resources
- Address disaster preparedness, response, and recovery related to Texas' heritage
- Learn local preservation success stories
- Help shape the vision for the future of historic preservation in Texas
- Set the direction for statewide historic preservation activities over the next 10 years

The Historic Sites staff is gearing up to welcome an influx of visitors over the next few weeks for the Spring Break holidays. The Sterne-Hoya House Museum & Library and the Durst-Taylor Historic House & Gardens are open Wednesday - Saturday from 10am to 4pm and the Nacogdoches Railroad Depot is open Thursday - Saturday from 10am to 4pm. Encourage friends, family and neighbors to visit our local historic sites this Spring Break!

The Main Street Advisory Board welcomed 7 new board members at their meeting on Thursday! We are very excited about this new group of board members who are enthusiastic and ready to get involved in Downtown Nacogdoches.

The Nacogdoches Wine Swirl event is right around the corner! If you haven't purchased tickets for the April 2nd event, there's still time. Tickets are sold locally at Red House Winery and the Hotel Fredonia or you can purchase tickets online through eventbrite.
